Pop Quiz Music Is a Voice-Powered Music Trivia Game That Turns Your Favorite Artists Into the Ultimate Party Challenge

No multiple choice. Hit the mic and shout the answer. A new app lets you build a personalized music trivia game from over 100 million songs and play with friends from a single device.

Minneapolis, MN // Pop Quiz Music, a new voice-powered music trivia game for iPhone, iPad, and Apple Watch, is now available on the App Store. Instead of picking from multiple choice answers, players hit the mic and speak their answers out loud. The app lets you add any artist you want, explore curated genre playlists, and play head to head or party mode from a single device with no extra downloads required.

The voice input changes the energy completely. It turns a quiz app into your own personal party game show. And because players can add any artist to their roster or dive into curated playlists covering Britpop, Classic Rock, '90s Hip-Hop, One Hit Wonders, Boy Bands, Legendary Divas, and more, every session is different.

What Makes Pop Quiz Music Different

Voice-Powered Gameplay: Hit the mic button and say your answer out loud. No multiple choice, no picking from a list. Pop Quiz Music uses on-device speech recognition to capture answers in real time, keeping the pace fast and the energy high.

Your Artists, Your Game: Add any artist from a catalog of over 100 million songs. Build your own roster and get quizzed on the music you actually care about.

Curated Genre Playlists: Not sure where to start? Jump into hand-picked playlists spanning Britpop, Classic Rock, '90s Hip-Hop, Indie, Country, K-Pop, One Hit Wonders, Boy Bands, Legendary Divas, and more. New playlists added regularly.

Daily Trivia: Three free questions every day. Build your streak, share your results with friends via a custom scorecard, and see how you stack up.

Head to Head (iPhone): Challenge a friend one-on-one from a single device. No second download needed.

Party Mode (iPad): Up to four players on iPad. Pick your genres, shout your answers, and crown a winner on the podium screen.

Apple Watch: Quick voice-powered trivia rounds right from your wrist.

Crafted by a Music Fan: Questions are written and curated by a real person, not generated by algorithm. Expect questions that are fun, surprising, and actually test what you know.

From the Creator

“Every music trivia game I’ve played is multiple choice. You’re just tapping buttons,” said David McCrindle, creator of Pop Quiz Music. “I wanted to build something where you shout the answer out loud. Where you curate the artists that are included. If you’re obsessed with Radiohead or Dolly Parton or Bad Bunny, your game should reflect that. Voice input changes everything. It turns a quiz app into your own personal party game show.”
